

Why have violent TV programming at all? How does it make for a better society?